NEW YORK TICKET IMPRESSES NATION

Candidates Named by Governor Smith—Not One Affiliated With Tammany.

ROOSEVELT SUPPORTED BY REPUBLICAN PRESS

A distinctly favorable reaction to the nomination by the Democratic party of Franklin D. Roosevelt for Governor of New York State is perceived by political observers in almost every State of the Union.

Nobody in New York has any doubt that he will be elected. One of the most able and most highly respected figures in the history of American politics, he is said to be sure of the largest majority ever received by a candidate for Governor. His presence on the Democratic ticket, coupled with the fact that he is one of Governor Smith's closest friends, leaves the Hoover forces without hope in the Empire State.

But what is of greater significance, since no well-informed person has ever doubted the Governor's ability to carry his own State, is the reaction to Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy in the West and South. His consent to become the nominee, at Governor Smith's request, has made ridiculous the "Tammany cry" with which Republican campaign managers have attempted to influence voters in the districts unfamiliar with the Governor's record.

Tammany Not Represented

Mr. Roosevelt has never been affiliated with Tammany Hall, nor any other political machine. In fact, not a single candidate on the State ticket, which was in actuality named from top to bottom by Governor Smith, has any connection with Tammany.

New York Republican leaders acknowledge that, unlike their own candidate who is linked with the big bank interests, Mr. Roosevelt is invulnerable to attack. A distinguished official of the Wilson Administration, in which he served as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1920, he consistently refused to run for Governor until pressed to do so by Governor Smith.

One significant reaction to Governor Smith's choice of a man of such character and reputation to succeed him at Albany is the defection of two strong Hoover newspapers in New York, the Sun and the Telegram, both of which announced editorially that they would support the Democratic candidate for Governor.

To Preserve Smith Ideals

WARM SPRINGS, Ga.—Explaining why he had consented to be drafted by the party leaders of New York state, after his previous refusal to accept the nomination for Governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt said:

"It was because they felt and I felt that the whole splendid structure of government built up by Governor Smith and all the high ideals of service to the people which he had established were in peril that caused me to accept the nomination.

"That is something too important to let any personal considerations weigh in the slightest. I am in this fight not to win personal honor, but for the carrying forward of the policies of Governor Smith."

WILSON URGED KIN TO SUPPORT SMITH

War-Time President Scorned Cry That He was Tammany Candidate.

WASHINGTON.—President Woodrow Wilson in 1918 urged his relatives to vote for Alfred E. Smith, who was then a candidate for Governor of New York, and to work for his election.

The incident was described to friends by Mrs. Rolfe E. Bolling, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Wilson, who now resides in Washington.

"Mr. Bolling and I called on President and Mrs. Wilson during a Red Cross drive in the late summer of 1918, when we were living in New York. President Wilson asked if I had registered. I replied in the negative, explaining that we had not done so because we thought Mr. Smith was the candidate of Tammany Hall.

"I will never forget how he looked at me and said in a very serious tone:

"'Go tomorrow and register and both work and vote for Mr. Smith.'

"'We did,' added Mrs. Bolling, 'and I feel that in voting for him again this year we are obeying almost a solemn injunction."

Protestants Lead Smith Appointees

Conclusive proof that Governor Smith has not been controlled by political or religious influences is found in his appointments as Governor of New York. Statistics made public by Secretary of State Moses reveal that a great majority of the Governor's appointees are Protestants and that there are twice as many Republicans as Democrats in his Cabinet.

Governor Alfred E. Smith

The Governor's Cabinet is comprised of 10 Protestants, 3 Catholics and 1 Jew. Of these 8 are Republican, 4 are Democrats and 2 are Independents.

Of 25 State Department heads, 14 are Protestants and 11 are Catholics. Eight are Republicans, 3 are Independents and 14 are Democrats.

Of 156 other State officials whose appointments require the approval of the Governor, there are 105 Protestants, 33 Catholics, 11 Jews and 7 undesignated.

In every case, regardless of all other considerations, Governor Smith appointed the person he thought best fitted for the office.

PLEA TO BIGOTRY A COSTLY BLUNDER

Hamilton Fish, Jr., Warns Hoover That Republican Success Is Jeopardized.

WASHINGTON.—Hamilton Fish, Jr., Republican representative from New York, has warned Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee, that the injection of the religious issue into the campaign by accredited Republican speakers will result in a clean sweep of New York and the Eastern states by Governor Smith on that issue.

Calling on Mr. Hoover, Mr. Fish told the Republican presidential candidate that he was "so disgusted with such political blunders" as are being committed by the Hoover campaign managers that he contemplates abandoning his speaking tour in New York state.

The Republican representative said he "informed Mr. Hoover that Republican leaders committed a stupid political blunder by forcing the nomination of Ambassador Houghton," which "would endanger the entire ticket and alienate labor and the World War veterans, and disrupt the entire Republican ticket. The failure of the Republicans to nominate a single World War veteran . . . will be resented to the rank and file."

Mr. Fish added that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrant and all others who are appealing to bigotry, he silenced "before irreparable harm has been done to the Republican ticket."

GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA ATTACKS BIGOTS

RALEIGH, N. C.—A vigorous campaign for the election of Gov. Smith is being made throughout North Carolina by Governor A. W. McLean. Attacking religious intolerance, he said:

"I am ready to defend the right of Governor Smith and every other man or woman, whether Catholic or Protestant, to worship God in his own way.

"I am for Gov. Smith because I believe he is in every way qualified to fill the office of President."

CHURCH DECRIES BIGOTRY

The Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, is censored in an editorial in this week's Presbyterian, national church paper, for his call upon Presbyterians to support Hoover. His church position gives him no right to give political advice, the editorial states.

Freedom

Dr. Alderman, President of Va., says the Va. Constitution religious freedom should printed— here it is.

"Where as, Almighty God created the mind free: That attempts to influence it by poral punishments or dens, or by civil incapacitations, tend only to beget habits hypocrisy and meanness, and departure from the plan of holy author of our religion, being Lord of both body mind, yet chose not to propagate it by coercions or either, in his Almighty's power to do: . . . that our civil rights no dependence on our religious opinions any more than opinions in physics and that therefore the ascribing any citizen as unworthy the public confidence by laying upon him an incapacity of being called to office of trust and emolument, unless he profess or renounce this or that religious opinion, is depriving him injuriously of those privileges and advantages to which, in common with his fellow-citizens, he has a natural right; that it tends only to corrupt the principles of that religion it is meant to encourage, by bribing with a monopoly of worldly honors and emoluments, those who will externally profess or conform it to. . . .

Be it enacted by the General Assembly. . . . that all men shall be free to profess, and by argument to maintain, their opinions in matters of religion, and that the same shall in no wise diminish, enlarge, or affect their civil capacities. . . . .

PROGRESSIVES OUT FOR SMITH

LaFollette Organ Issues Call to 5,000,000 Followers of Late Senator

MADISON, Wis.—Any lingering doubt that the Republican Progressive vote of the Nation would go to the Democratic presidential candidate has been dispelled by startling political developments during the past week.

The Capital Times, long known as the organ of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, and the leading Progressive newspaper in the West, in an outstanding editorial declared for Governor Smith for President, and called upon all Progressives in the State and Nation to support him.

Senator "Bob" LaFollette, Jr., is a large stockholder in the Capital-Times.

The editorial pronouncement is regarded as an official appeal to the 5,000,000 voters who supported the colorful Wisconsin senator in his campaign for President in 1924.

Blaine on Stump for Smith

It was followed immediately by the announcement of Senator John J. Blaine that he would speak for Governor Smith. Senator Blaine, who was elected three times by the Republicans as Governor of Wisconsin, succeeded to the leadership of the Wisconsin Progressives upon the death of the elder LaFollette. He had previously denounced Hoover. Senator Norris, of Nebraska, dominant Republican Progressive leader, has also endorced Smith's stand on farm relief and water power.

The Republican State Central Committee in Wisconsin, headed by Herman L. Ekern, has repeatedly refused to endorse the Hoover-Curtis ticket. Over the doorway of a local hotel is a flaming banner reading:

"Progressive Republican Headquarters: Alfred E. Smith for President."

Republican Panic

So marked is the impetus taken on by Governor Smith's campaign as election day draws near, that Republican leaders everywhere manifest signs of genuine panic.

The G. O. P. high command sees the "writing on the wall" in the East. Their campaign managers in the Northwest, where the LaFollette Progressive vote is lined up behind the Democratic candidate, are distressed by a sense of impending disaster. Their hope of breaking the Democratic dominance of the South is vanishing. And now a threat of utter rout comes with "blue eyes," which were open, and with "flesh white and firm, having been preserved in an extraordinary manner."

In another room, which Howard opined might have been the harem were the bodies of 200 women.

The city had trapdoors and all kinds of plain and fancy levers and mechanism, Howard declared.

He said they cached $18,000 in gold dust which they retrieved, and King went to Cheyenne to try to finance the expedition. By the time the trio were back to the cache the cabin in which it had been secreted had been washed away by the flood of a freshet, he said, thus delaying them in getting their story to the world from which they hope to obtain finances.

"Liberty Bell" Foundry Oldest London Business

London.—The ancient bell foundry, where America's "Liberty Bell" was cast, is reputed to be the oldest business in London.

The property of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, it was originally established in 1570 at Essex street, Whitechapel, where it was removed to its present site in Whitechapel road during 1738.

A bell cast at the foundry in 1594 for the English village of Stapleshurst was sent back to the firm for repairs 300 years later. "Big Ben," the huge bell that tolls the hours in the clock tower surmounting the British houses of parliament, came from this foundry, as did also York minister's "Great Peter" and Lincoln cathedral's "Great Tom."

TELL OF BURIED CITY AND HEAPS OF GOLD

Prospectors Outdo Verne and Rider Haggard.

San Francisco.—Three prospectors slipped in off the desert in a battered old auto recently with a story that begins where Jules Verne and Rider Haggard stopped. It had to do with a buried city laden with millions of dollars' worth of gold and highly preserved bodies of no less than 700 men and women who grew to a height of six feet six inches and upward.

This Golconda of modern times remains somewhat of a secret as far as definite location is concerned, but it is partly under the Colorado river at a point along the California-Arizona line, according to the sponsors of its existence. It is reached by a shaft about 35 miles in length, paved with blocks held together by red cement, and lies three miles under the surface —according to the prospectors.

Backing Sought.

They are C. J. Howard of Houston, Texas; his wife, and Reuben King of Denver and San Antonio.

Howard, acting as spokesman, attempted to persuade Prof. A. L. Kroeber, head of the anthropology department of the University of California, that the university should finance an expedition to unearth all this vast wealth. The scientist informed Howard that the university has no funds for such a purpose. Professor Kroeber, as a matter of fact, was inclined to discount the veracity of the strange things he heard about the underground city of Babylonian elegance, but hastened to add that "nothing is impossible."

"We are only desert rats," explained Howard, "but we know we have located more buried treasure than has ever been uncovered in this country. There will be a lot of sorehends when we find the help we need and prove we have the goods.

"We know we are telling a story hard to believe, but are willing to take anyone with money to the buried city and let him see the treasure with his own eyes.

Finds Buried City.

"About three years and eight months ago we were prospecting for gold along the California-Arizona desert country. One day I was working in a 29-foot shaft when my pick broke through to an abandoned mining shaft. It was paved with square beveled stones fastened with red cement. They looked very old. I followed the shaft for 28 miles and came to the buried city.

Howard described in detail how he entered a great circular chamber with a table extending almost entirely across its diameter, at which were seated "the almost nude bodies of 72 persons," six feet six inches or taller, with "blue eyes," which were open, and with "flesh white and firm, having been preserved in an extraordinary manner."

SMITH VICTORY OR RUIN, SAY FARM LEADERS

Anxious to Get Out Every Possible Vote for Champion of Agriculture.

CITE RECORDS OF NOMINEES

Scores of Farm Organizations Endorse Democratic Candidate and Denounce Hoover; Officials Active in Campaign.

Threatened with ruin by a "continuance of the Coolidge policies," and realising their only hope for relief lies in piling up enough farm votes to ensure the election of Governor Smith, American farmers are making, through their various organizations, a tremendous effort to get every agricultural worker to the polls on election day.

Unqualifiedly endorsed by practically all farm organizations of consequence in the West and South, the Democratic candidate is assured, despite attempts to defeat him by appeals to bigotry, of the votes of all farmers who place their own prosperity above partisan prejudices.

Farm leaders, however, are anxious to make the Smith farm majority large enough to offset any possible advantage gained by the Hoover forces in backward districts which might be influenced by the misleading propaganda of the Ku Klux Klan and Anti-Saloon League.

Calling upon all farmers and members of their families to register and vote for Governor Smith, they stress the attitude of the two presidential candidates as revealed in both their past records and their utterances during the present campaign.

Candidates Contrasted

Governor Smith has consistently proposed and secured the passage of legislation which was invaluable to the farmers of his State. Herbert Hoover has just as consistently opposed measures which might have benefited Agriculture. It was he who, as Federal Food Administrator, held down the prices of wheat and hogs during the war.

What is more important, Governor Smith promises to give the farmers immediately the legislative aid for which they have struggled unsuccessfully for the last five years. Herbert Hoover is opposed to it, the agricultural leaders point out, and his election would mean the death of the farm movement.

Perhaps the most important express sion of organized agriculture's stand in this election is the resolution endorsing Governor Smith's position and condemning that of the Republican party, adopted recently in Des Moines by the Corn Belt Committee. This is the alliance of the 40 most important farm organizations in the Middle West, with a combined membership of 1,500,000 heads of families. Mr. Hoover's record has been bitterly condemned, also, by a resolution passed by the National Farmers' Union.

Leaders Endorse Smith

Among the most prominent farm leaders who have endorsed Governor Smith's position on Agriculture and denounced Mr. Hoover's record are the following:

C. H. Thompson, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

W. H. Settle, President of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation.

Gary Anderson, President of the Illinois Agriculture Association.

Wm. Hirth, President of the Missouri Farmers Association, and Chairman of the Corn Belt Committee of Farm Organizations.

Frank W. Murphy, of Minnesota, Chairman of the Legislative Committee of Corn Belt Committee of Farm Organizations.

Ed. Boeckman, President of the Montana Farmers' Union.

E. E. Kennedy, Secretary of the Illinois Farmers' Union.

Mrs. A. V. Wallace, Editor of Wallace's Farmer.

Rev. Cannon, Former Commissioner of Agriculture of Idaho.

Nathan Dyer, Director in the Agricultural Department of Kansas.

Herbert C. Davis, Former Commissioner of Agriculture of Montana.

Ralph S. Cashmore, Member of the Executive Board, Minnesota Farm Bureau.

Geo. Peck, President of the American Royal Livestock Association.

Jay Plummer, Colorado Wheat Growers' Association.

Mrs. Mary E. Kilgore, Chairman of the Women's Committee of the Corn Belt Committee of Farm Organizations.

C. E. Caverno, President of the Montana Grain Growers' Association.

Ed. Metzger, Manager of the Union Live Stock Shipping Association of Nebraska.

George N. Peek, Chairman of the Committee of Twenty-two of the American Agriculture Conference.

Mrs. Verna L. Hatch, Social and Economic Secretary of the Iowa Farmers' Union.

Is an incomplete list of farm leaders who have publicly announced that they are supporting Governor Smith.
